Mr. Walter Kreidel
285 Chestnut Street
Xenia, Ohio

Dear Walter:

I wish to apologize for having made the mistake on the statement I sent you. You were correct in stating the amount owed was $10.50 rather than $11.00.

I certainly appreciated your inquiry concerning Baxter's "Speaking for the Master". I do not have direct connection with the publisher of this book, but I can allow you a 10% discount. The book normally sells for $2.95, but I would be able to let you have it for $2.66. Of course, it would be entirely at your discretion whether you passed this discount on to the members of the class, or kept the profit yourself for having handled the books, which action I feel would be entirely within the realm of proper conduct.

Please advise me if you wish to order these books. I can have them sent directly to you. You may then pay me as you collect the money for them.

My best wishes to you and your family.

Fraternally yours,

John Allen Chalk
